Mental health boost

Junction fundraiser draws strong support

A WHO'S who of Mount Gambier donated to a good cause last Friday night, supporting The South East Junction at a fundraising dinner and wine auction at Attamurra Golf Course.

Junction coordinator Nel Jans said the evening had raised about $6000, which will go towards new programs including a mental health first aid course and meditation sessions at the Mount Gambier Library.

"The programs are for The Junction and the general public, we want to have a broader effect and reach more people with mental illness as well as members of the community who could benefit from less stress," Ms Jans said.

The dinner was a highly coordinated exercise, with Soroptomist International providing entrees, Lakes Rotary Club manning the grill for steaks and mains, the Lioness Club creating dessert marvels, a TAFE hospitality class making the sides and salads and the Lions club acting as waiters.

David Kenseley took to the microphone as auctioneer and host while Doug Balnaves with typical deadpan humour held the audience captive with stories from his life.

"I want to thank Christine Plunkett, if it wasn't for her I would still be thinking about this event," Ms Jans said.

"She has been such a good mentor, both for the junction and myself."

The Junction's next fundraiser will be a '70s and '80s night at the Mount Gambier Community RSL on June 3.

GUEST SPEAKER:

Doug Balnaves recounted stories of his life and experiences in the wine industry to a captive audience.

FUND RAISER:

Junction Coordinator Nel Jans, organiser Christine Plunkett and volunteer Bronnie Leibhardt were integral to the success of the wine auction and dinner.
